

Do Good Make Money and David Ortiz Marketing Campaign

MAKE MONEY

Overview

David Ortiz is a MLB player and three-time World Series champion with the Boston Red Sox. Ortiz is also a dedicated philanthropist, committed to giving back to his communities.

In 2007, he founded the David Ortiz Children's Fund, which provides life-saving pediatric cardiac care for children. Partnering with top medical institutions, the foundation has helped thousands of children receive critical surgeries.

Objectives

Objectives

Objective 1:

Raise Awareness

Increase visibility of the athlete's foundation and its mission

Objective 2:

Donor Acquisition

Attract new donors including individuals, businesses and long term partners.

Objective 3:

Build Community

Building a community ensures long-term engagement. We want a community that feels connected to the mission.

Target

Target Market

Fans of the Athlete

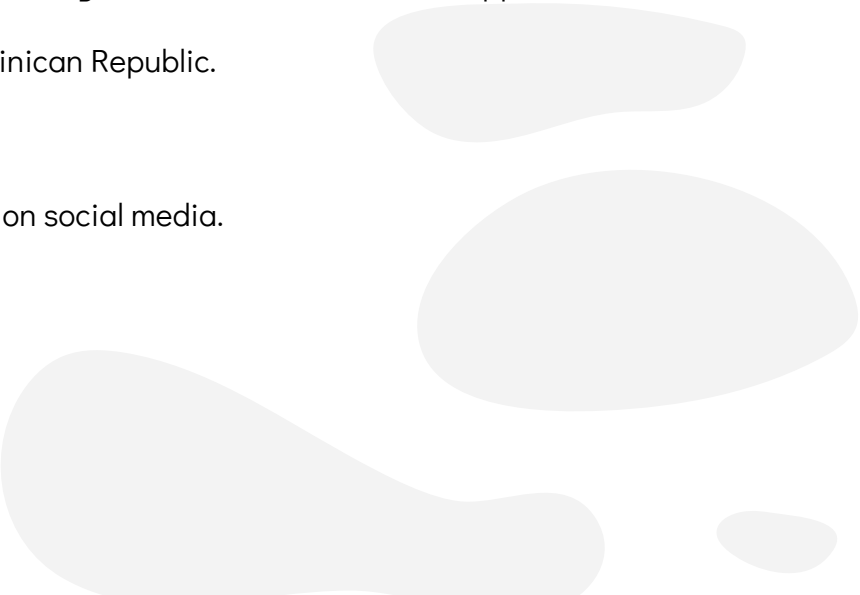

- Use David Ortiz's existing fan base.
- Leverage the fan base with exclusive opportunities for engagement. This includes meet-and-greets, personalized messages, and behind-the-scenes content.
- With their admiration for the athlete, these fans are more likely to support the foundation.

Philanthropic Individuals

- Focus on individuals with an interest in charitable giving.
- Highlight the mission, the impact of donations, and the opportunity to make a difference.
- Use targeted messages through email campaigns and events to appeal to their desire to contribute to the cause.

Target Audience

Demographic Criteria

- Age 30–55, both men women, in a family with children, college-educated, and middle-to-upper class.
 - Based in the U.S. (particularly in New England) or Dominican Republic.
 - Motivated by family, health, and community impact.
 - Regularly engaged in philanthropic events and active on social media.

SWOT Analysis

Strengths

- David Ortiz is a pretty well known player
- The foundation has a proven track record of saving lives, enhancing credibility

Opportunities

- Create more merchandising, creating a new revenue stream
- Partner with other well-known athletes or influencers to expand visibility.

Weaknesses

- Limited awareness beyond Ortiz's fan base
- High reliance on Ortiz's personal involvement

Threats

- Global events and crises like pandemics, or geopolitical issues could disturb the campaign.
- Competition with other nonprofit organizations
- Any controversy with Ortiz could harm the reputation.

03

Campaign Elements

Digital Marketing

Social Media Campaigns:

- Posts featuring personal stories such as a day in the life of a pediatric patient, or highlights from missions to raise awareness.
- Call to action for special events and ask influencers to post a story that we will repost on our account.
- Q&A sessions on Twitter.
- Facebook for long-form stories and event announcements

Email Newsletter:

- Give regular updates on the progress, tell impactful stories, and donor spotlights.
- Send thank-you emails to donors

Website Revamp:

- Optimizes the website for donations, with a clear navigation and visuals that tell the foundation's story.
- Each donor will be on the "Thank You Wall", to encourage people to give.

Content Creation

Impact Videos:

- Short clips showcasing how donations are used and the lives they change.
- A new series called “Heartbeat Stories” featuring children whose lives were saved, their families, and medical professionals will share their experience. Each video of the serie will end with a call to action to donate or get involved.

Blog Posts/Articles:

- Interviews with Ortiz, updates on the foundation’s partnerships with hospitals, and detailed success stories that inspire action and involvement.
- Share insights about the cause, athlete’s personal connection, and success stories.

User Generated Content

- By using the hashtag #EveryHeartbeatMatters or #DavidOrtizFund, we will let users and donors share their own stories online.

Events

Kickoff Event to launch the campaign featuring guest speakers an auction and live donation opportunities.

Fundraising Challenge:

- Participants compete to collect the most donations. The winning team wins a signed baseball bat by Ortiz.
- Weekly leaderboards to recognize top fundraisers.
- Ortiz and other celebrity participants post their progress on social media to motivate others.

Charity Auction: Auction off memorabilia, experiences with the athlete, or signed gear.

Baseball Game: Host a celebrity baseball game featuring Ortiz and other sports stars. People will be paying to watch the game and all the revenue generated will be donated to the organization.

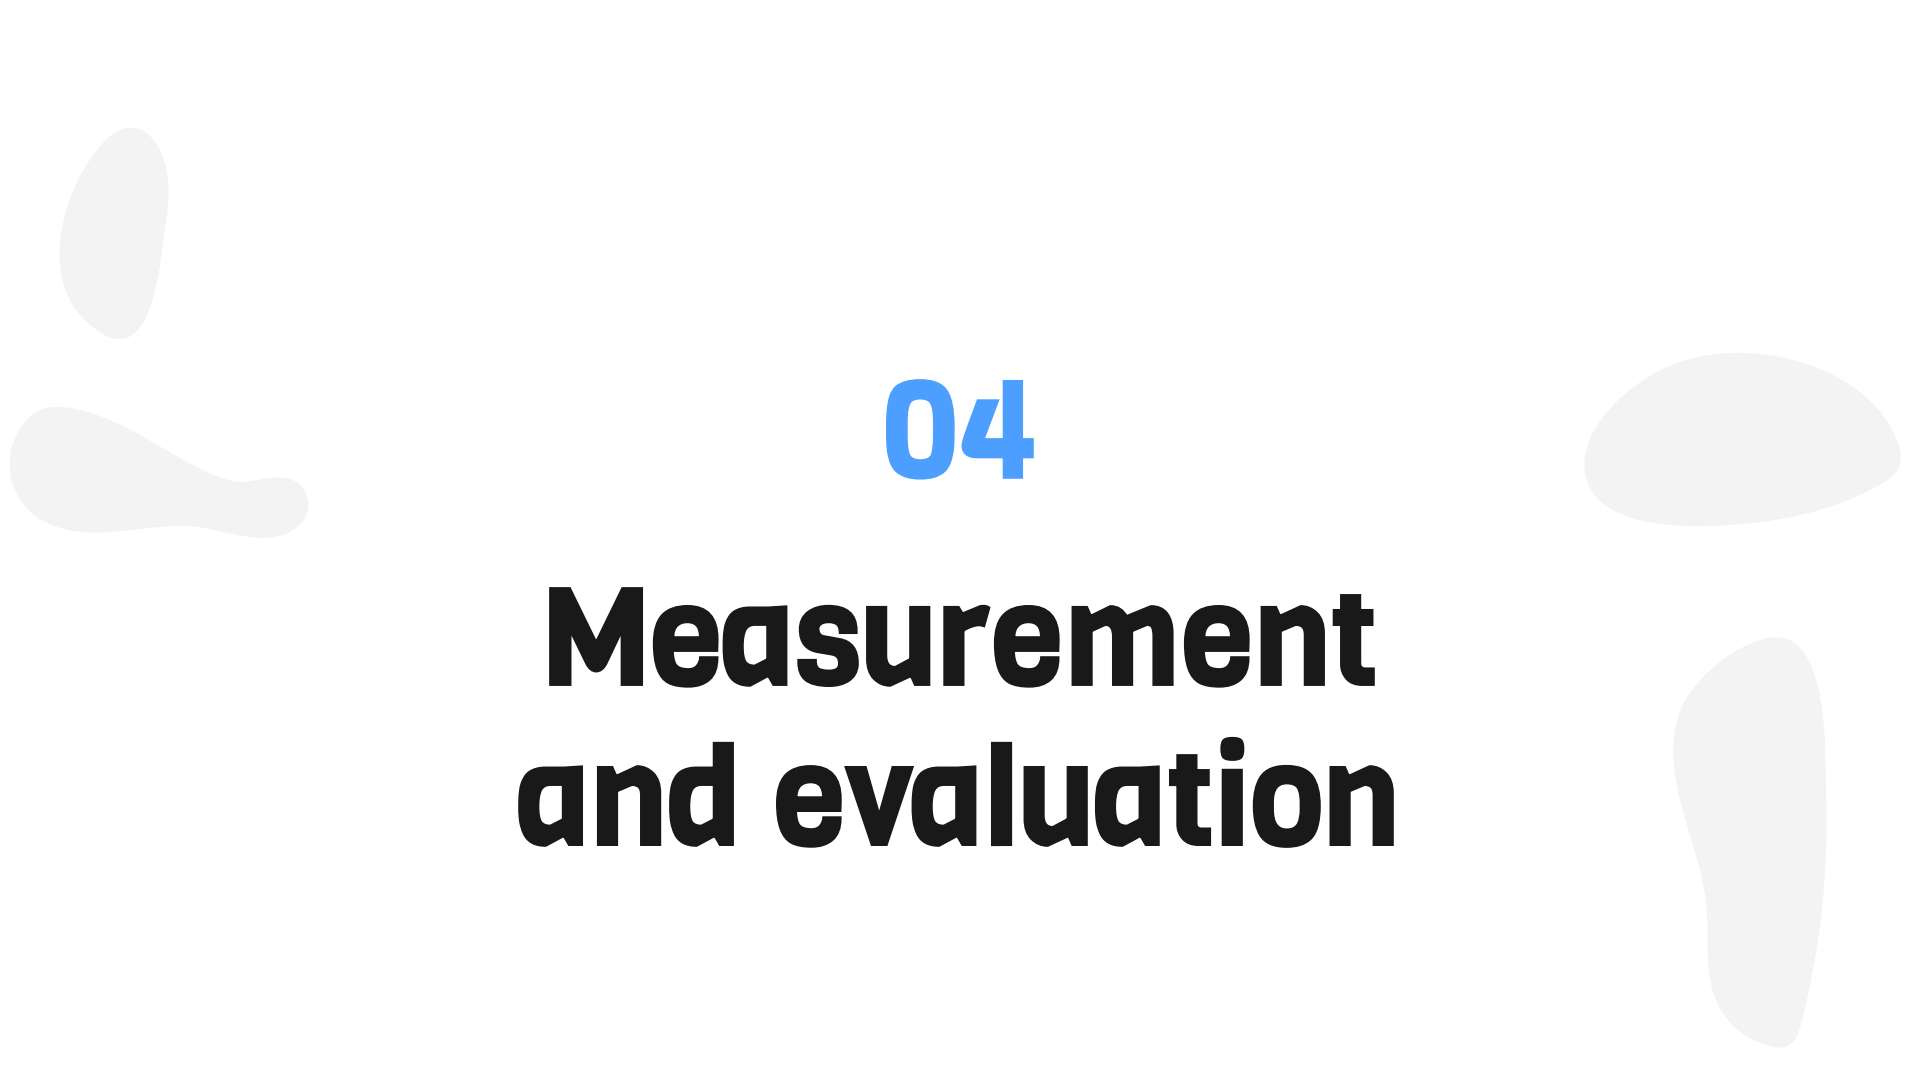

Partnerships

Corporate Sponsorships:

- Approach baseball or sport related businesses for sponsorship opportunities.
- Offer branding in return, during the celebrity baseball game for example.

Influencer Collaboration:

- Partner with other athletes or influencers to reach a broader audience.
- By asking them publicly on social media, we will have more chance to get an answer as it will be hard for them to say no to help a non-profit organization.

04

Measurement and evaluation

Metrics to Track

Track Donations

We want to track:

- How many people give.
- How much they give.
- How many times they give.
- Who is giving.

Track Engagement

- How many people visit our website.
- If they come from one of our social media platform.
- Engagement rate on social media.

Feedback

- Conduct surveys.
- Keep contact with the donors.

Pre-Launch

Goals: We want to set the foundation for a successful campaign, and develop all creative assets and finalize partnerships.

Content Creation:

- Film “Heartbeat Stories” videos.
- Prepare and schedule posts, content on social media and newsletters.
- Create teaser trailers and countdown posts for the kickoff event.

Website Changes

- Update the foundation’s website with new visuals, a donation tracker, and the “Thank You Wall”.

Kickoff Event Planning:

- Book a venue and all the equipments necessary, and design the event agenda.
- Sell tables in advance for different prices
- Send the date to fans, donors and media.

Launch

Goals: Generate visibility and initiate donor engagement.

Kickoff Event: "Every Heartbeat Matters" will be an in-person event but will also be live streamed to be available to more people.

This event will include:

- A welcome by David Ortiz, and a speech sharing his personal connection to the cause.
- Testimonials from families and doctors impacted by the foundation.
- Live auction for jersey signed by Ortiz.
- Real-time donation tracker displayed on a big screen.

Digital Ads:

- Ads featuring clips from the kickoff event to attract more donors.

Post-Launch

Goals: Keep the momentum with new events and interactive activities.

Key Event: Celebrity Baseball Game

- Invite celebrities and influencers who like baseball.
- Give all the revenues to the organization.
- Find a sponsor who can finance the organization of game.
- The game will be on Twitch, where all the viewers can easily make donations.

Fundraising challenge:

- Fundraising challenge where participants compete to collect the most donations. The winning team wins a signed baseball bat by Ortiz.
- Weekly leaderboards to recognize top fundraisers.
- Ortiz and other celebrity participants post their progress on social media to motivate others.

Wrap-Up

Goals: Highlight the campaign's impact and express gratitude to donors.

Key Event: Celebration and Impact Report Event

- Last event "From Hearts to Heroes", which will also be an in person and online event. Will be presenting the total amount raised with the real-time donation tracker.
- People will be sharing stories one last time and a short documentary about the campaign's achievements will be presented to the public.
- Conclude with a video montage of thank-you messages from children and families helped by the foundation.

Donor Recognition:

- Recognize top donors and corporate sponsors.
- Offer exclusive perks, such as a signed baseball or a personalized video from Ortiz.

06

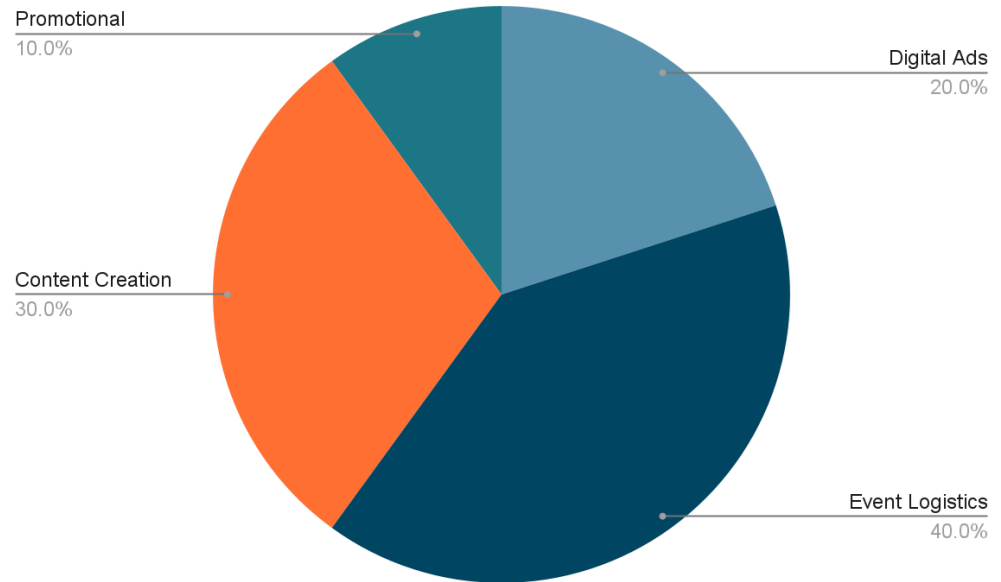

Budget

Budget Allocation

As we are a non-profit organization, the budget for the advertisement will be low. Our budget to prepare events can come from donations, sponsorships contribution, selling merchandise, and from the auction made during the kickoff event.

Projected Costs:

- Digital Ads: $10,000
- Event Logistics: $20,000
- Content Creation: $15,000
- Promotional Materials: $5,000.

07

Follow-Up Plan

Follow-up Plan

Thank-you Messages:

- Send personalized thank-you videos from Ortiz, handwritten notes to major donors, and public recognition on the foundation's website and social media.

Ongoing Engagement:

- Newsletters will keep donors informed about any new initiatives, events, and stories of impact.
- We will also remain active on social media to ensure people don't forget about our foundation.

Future Campaigns:

- Invite supporters to join the planning and execution of future campaigns, to create a sense of ownership and a deeper connection with our supporters.

08

Conclusion

Summary

With clear goals, a strong strategy, and our commitment to saving lives, this campaign is not just about raising money, but also about creating an effect of hope and healing. Together, we can make a difference, one heartbeat at a time, and build a legacy of compassion and care for years to come.

From our kickoff event to user-generated content and partnerships with influencers and corporations, every element of this campaign is designed to increase awareness and make an impact.

This campaign aims to increase the amount of donors and donations, and our brand recognition by being more active, especially on social media.

Trucs à rajouter

- Slide 7 - Target
 - C'est intéressant de distinguer les Cibles Finales des Cibles Relais
 - Finales = c'est celles que tu veux atteindre et que tu veux faire agir (recruter de nouveaux donateurs engagés)
 - Relais = c'est celles qui ne seront pas des donateurs mais qui vont te permettre d'atteindre les cibles finales, par exemple ici :
 - Les influenceurs / Les Médias = à qualifier en fonction de leur lectorat...
 - Des influenceurs qui parlent de leur propre parcours de soin... en plus des célébrités
 - Des médias santé / bien être / famille / enfants...
 - La communauté médicale : les cardiologues, chirurgiens, hôpitaux, maison de repos etc.
 - Les familles touchées par la situation..
 - ⇒ ces deux dernières cibles sont finalement les bénéficiaires des dons et peuvent promouvoir l'action de l'association

Encore au sujet des cibles

Il pourrait y avoir des cibles “entreprises” qui pourraient avoir envie de donner aussi.

Je pense :

Aux marques engagées pour l'enfance : alimentation, vêtements, loisirs, soins (labos pharmaceutiques,...)

Aux marques qui équipent les salles de chirurgie de hard ou de software...

Et qui seront aussi contentes d'associer leur image à l'esprit de compétition, de combativité, de dépassement de soi de David Ortiz

J'avais oublié de dire pour les cibles il nous a donné ça et on peut en choisir 2 max. C'est pour ça que il n'y a pas de cible entreprises.

En jaune c'est ce que j'ai choisi. OKAY COMPRIS. Tu peux peut être dire que les entreprises sont tes cibles à qui vendre des tables et des packs sponsors, et qu'elles seront le relai vers des cibles individuelles qu'elles inviteront à leur table et qui donneront aussi... par exemple

Target Audience

1. Fans of the Athlete: Utilize the athlete's existing fan base.
2. Sports Enthusiasts: Engage with sports communities.
3. Philanthropic Individuals: Target those interested in charitable causes.
4. Local Businesses: Encourage sponsorship and partnership opportunities.

Au sujet des diners fundraising

Je fais référence au slide 13 :

Il faut vendre des tables à des entreprises qui invitent des gens = ça finance l'événement les bénéfices viennent au profit de l'association. Et pour les entreprises c'est : de l'exposition de leur marque, l'occasion de faire du networking. Ça vaut le coup, pour chaque dîner, d'avoir un media et des influenceurs partenaires en amont, qui participe à la promotion des ventes de tables et du fundraising.

Charity auction: tu peux aussi solliciter les entreprises partenaires pour offrir des lots vendus aux enchères...

Au sujet des entreprises partenaires : il peut y avoir plusieurs offres de "sponsorship" =

Une offre basique : tu achètes une table pour l'événement, tu la payes $5000 et tu invites tes clients / partenaires à un bel événement en présence de Ortiz...

Une offre plus costaud = tu achètes ta table et tu donnes un chèque à la fondation. Tu as le droit d'utiliser le nom de la fondation sur tes packaging pour dire que tu soutiens la fondation et... ça donne de la visibilité à la marque

Une offre "en nature" : tu offres les vins, les mets, le lieu du dîner, un lot pour la vente aux enchères... par exemple et tu seras cité sur le site de la fondation, tu auras un post gratuit sur les social medias de l'association avec Ortiz...
